

HACKFEST COMMUNICATION

Hackfest 2023 Social Engineering CTF - Call For Participants

It's back!!!

The third installation of Hackfest's Social Engineering Capture the Flag event is on! Come show off your shmoozing abilities and win great prizes, prestige, and untold wealth. Okay, maybe not untold wealth, but a cool Flipper Zero and bragging rights can be yours if you enter and win.

We are following our tried and true format again this year. Three rounds, each scored individually, with the best cumulative score overall winning.

Registration is open until Midnight Pacific, Sunday August 6, 2023.

To enter the contest:

- 1) Email your name/handle, with 5 proposed target companies (must be Canadian companies, and you cannot have any affiliation with any of the targets), and the best email and phone number to reach you at.
- 2) All entrants will receive a link where they must submit a $25 CAD refundable registration fee. This fee is refundable if (and only if) a) you withdraw your application within 21 days of submitting it, or b) you show up and participate in the competition. If you do not show, or show but fail to participate, your entry fee will not be refunded, and will go towards beer/food/debauchery fund for all other participants. Failure to submit your registration fee will result in your removal from the contest.
- 3) Contest rules are available at: <https://hackfest.ca/fr/villages/se/regles.pdf>

We look forward to seeing you strut your stuff!
