Hello to our allies nation,

I am Mr. Frank Horrigan CEO of Super Surveillance Research Center. This research center have the responsibility to protect you and our national wealth. In this time of numerical chaos, our nation need a strong and real cybersecurity effort.

Hackers have crossed the line! We will find them and make them pay for their actions. We got some information about a hacker organisation that will be in action at the beginning of November in Quebec City. We think they are planning to attack major companies of Hackfest City and we won't let this happen.

If you have any useful information about these hackers and companies let us know!

With the help of our implants, we were able to intercept communications between them. It seems they are getting prepared. Here is a snippet :

"Invitations were sent to BeEF and JS-Recon. Will they show up?"

"Domain Controler are easy as 1,2,3 ! "

"Big Companies always hide malware !"

In the following page you will find a list of all companies we think hackers are interested in.
